

Verve OT - achieving more for the elderly & those with disability

SixFive provides Google Workspace configuration, ongoing management, plain English support, best practice advice and training to support the growth of this Occupational Therapy practice.

The challenge

Improvement to internal and external communications for a growing team, access to a reliable online meeting solution for consultations and team meetings, bring organisational structure and security to file and documents for patients.

The solution

Google Workspace implemented in the business, using best practices supporting business growth. Training provided to assist with getting the best out of Google Workspace, with best practice advice about security and operation.

The results

Higher productivity for the team due to a reduction in frustration and troubleshooting of software into an easy to use, always available product. Improved accessibility when on the road to stay in contact with clients and the team, with data synchronized across devices. Excellent face to face communications with client and the team during lockdown on Google Meet.

“ The introduction of Google Workspace and its features have resulted in significant improvements in productivity, accessibility and communications within the business and our clients. We streamlined into easy to use applications that support our team, so they focus more on delivering what we do best - helping our clients to live their daily lives. ”

Sarah Collison, Director, Verve OT
